Via a short dirt track we reach a big electric gate where we directly get a good impression of the more than 28.000m² plot..While the gate opens we are amazed to see this beautiful house that merges into nature.We see that about 100 new avocado trees have been planted which are watered by a computer controlled automatic irrigation system and there are still at least 250 mature olive trees on the plot. Just below the house there is also a small citrus garden to pick your own fruit.The access road to the house is perfect and takes us to the parking lot at the side of the house. These are situated in such a way that the cars will never blocks the beautiful view. The entrance is at the back of the house where we enter a large hall which also contains the guest toilet.Then we enter the large but cozy living/dining room with a cassette fireplace and on the other side an open kitchen with all amenities such as dishwasher, fridge, separate freezer, ceramic hob, combi oven and a built-in coffee maker. At the sink with drinking water through an osmosis system is also a breakfast bar placed.On the west side of the house is a guest bedroom with a complete bathroom with
