If you are looking for tranquility but still near amenities , this spanish finca in Hondon de los Frailes is the perfect property as it is only 1km to the town but it feels like a world of its own. The land around the property is all fenced up and has driveway from the front gate to the house. Inside the property there is a lovely and sunny living room with glazed terrace , separate kitchen with patio, 4 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms and at the front there is nice and shady wrap around terrace. Stairs outside lead up to the solarium where you can contemplate the surrounding nature and amazing views . The property also benefits of a garage which is perfect to store the car or as extra storage . Overall a great property and early viewing is recommended!
