This is a very charming home in the entrance of a spectacular mountain village on the costa del sol, called Manilva. This house is located in a small urbanisation with only 15 properties that share the communal (heated) pool. From wherever you look it is bright, natural and it does have spectacular panoramic views. Mountain and seaviews from every side of the house. The urbanisation is private and closed-in and this house in particular is in the front row and has the garden area south facing and the views are breathtaking! There is a porch in front of the house to park one car and there is space to store your Wood for the fireplace for those cosy colder days when you can admire the thunder from your own home above the mediterranean sea. Downstairs there is the separate U shaped spacious kitchen, a bathroom with toilet and shower, a small storage space, separate dining area of the lounge and then you walk into a 40M2 private terraced garden with the sea on the background. The first level has three bedrooms, the two bedrooms that share the family bathroom are south facing and both have fitted wardrobes, one bedroom has a Juliette balcony, what is a great
